TransferWise
United Kingdom
5900 sqft | 8 weeks
TransferWise is a money transfer service with a difference. Their mission is to spark a digital revolution in sending and receiving money from abroad, using a smart, new approach that speeds up the process, and cuts-out high-fees. It’s no wonder they’re growing so quickly. But with this rapid expansion came a need for more office space, which is where the team at Tétris were able to help.

We started the design process with a series of workshops to understand TransferWise’s space requirements. From this we established a more efficient floor-plate to optimise space usage and encourage collaboration. The aesthetic is clean and crisp, reflective of the innovative nature of the company, while bold splashes of colour add a sense of playfulness. The exposed ceilings and polished concrete floors give a nod to the iconic Tea Building’s industrial past. The result? A quirky and buzzing workspace, for a rapidly growing team.
Amadeus

Amadeus is a global, market-leading technology company that helps travel businesses grow by connecting them to the travel market place. Their ambition is simple – embrace innovation and technology to shape the future of travel.

Our goal was to create a space in which Amadeus can live and breathe their vision and values, while promoting an open and collaborative workspace.

The result? A vibrant workspace with an open, community feel that encourages innovation and collaboration. The office revolves around a central atrium, featuring a tiered auditorium space. A variety of working environments have been incorporated on each floor, from hot-desking to breakout booths, providing employees with the flexibility to choose how they work. We even drew upon Amadeus’s brand colours to give each floor a unique reference colour, mirrored in the signage.

By taking a joined-up approach with our colleagues across EMEA both in Tétris and JLL, we’ve helped our client achieve their goals across their property portfolio, and throughout the property life-cycle. With Tétris France having previously completed Amadeus’s offices in Nice, we were able to really understand Amadeus’s culture, needs and requirements, culminating in an office fit to ‘shape the future of travel.’
Bayer
United Kingdom
80730 sqft | 21 weeks
In conjunction with JLL, Bayer appointed Tétris to provide a Cat B Detail & Build fit out of their new UK & Ireland headquarters in Green Park, Reading. As an environmentally conscious business park, one of Bayer’s key requirements was to deliver a BREEAM ‘Excellent’ rated fit out. Spread over four floors, the project includes impressive client facing spaces throughout the ground floor, including a large and adaptable meeting suite, welcome area and exhibition space. The exhibition space showcases Bayer’s 150 year history and far reaching intentions for future products, concepts and research in healthcare for humans, animals and plant life. We also created a teaching laboratory for local schools to learn about the company’s vast accomplishments in science, along with a café and restaurant space for both staff and visitors. Each of the upper three floors consist of free-flowing open plan office spaces surrounding a central atrium. The spaces are across three zones which incorporate collaboration areas, meeting rooms, phone booths, social spaces and tea points. These add up to make Bayer’s new offices ideal for flexible working.

Adding life and colour throughout the building are graphic wall coverings that show Bayer’s contrasting, yet complementary, interests and expertise. Subtly incorporated within the various finishes and surfaces are representations of DNA and molecular patterns making this a lively constantly intriguing workspace.

JLL’s City office, located in the landmark Walbrook Building has long been the office of choice to host some of the firm’s most distinguished clients. When JLL made the decision to update the office, they selected Tétris as their partner of choice to create a space reflective of their culture, people and community. We worked closely with JLL to bring light, life and colour into the space. A functional and flexible environment has been created to encourage internal and external collaboration, fulfilling the needs of the teams for years to come.
QuadReal
United Kingdom
1785 sqft  |  6 weeks
QuadReal Property Group is a real estate investment, development and management company. Their vision is to be a leading global real estate partner, recognised for making meaningful contributions to communities. To create living and working environments that enhance the lives of the people and communities they serve.

As a global company, with an international client base, a crucial element of the brief was to ensure their new office in the heart of London’s Mayfair communicated the look and feel of the QuadReal brand. Together with the client, we collaboratively worked through the design process, to ensure the brand was brought to life.

The result? A sleek, modern office that combines clean lines with playful splashes of colour; state-of-the-art amenities and bespoke joinery with custom furnishings. An office that lives and breathes the QuadReal brand.
